Welcome!

Let me welcome you to my class! I am eager to collaborate with you this semester as we learn about communication theory and practice, and I hope you will be able to apply these ideas in your life. I know that the prospect of giving speeches as part of a communication course can be really scary, and you might be feeling stressed out about that already, but I promise I will help you get through that. More than anything, I hope we have fun, find connections with each other, and learn skills you can start using right away. 😊

I cannot stress this enough – if you have questions or need assistance any time during the semester, please let me know right away. Your success is important to me, and if anything gets in the way of that, I am here to help. I welcome you to contact me outside of class. You are welcome to text me any time. Steph

Class Policies

It is generally accepted that academic writing consists of the author's thoughts which are supported by properly cited sources through paraphrasing, summary, and quotations. At the instructor's discretion, papers with excessive quotations, where quotations make up 10% or more of the paper, may not meet the assignment requirements, and be dealt with accordingly.

Revision Policy:

Since revision is a major part of writing, I will allow you to revise your essays once they have been graded. You get one attempt at a revision for each writing assignment. I must receive the revision by the assigned deadline. I expect revisions to go beyond simply addressing my comments by carefully examining and trying to meet the grading criteria. You are welcome to submit a revision before the assigned deadline; however, the assignment may not be graded before this assigned date.

Netiquette:

We will be communicating a lot with each other. You will need to be respectful of the instructor and each other. Your classmates' ideas and beliefs may differ from your own, be polite! When in doubt, you can agree to disagree. You will be expected to communicate with your classmates and your instructor using appropriate language and style, which includes written/typed communication. Remember: the way you communicate can reflect the level of respect you have for the people with whom you communicate. You will want to practice good e-mail etiquette when typing questions/responses to the instructor and classmates, such as avoiding using all caps when typing or using an accusatory tone.

Communication Policy:

E-mails sent to me by 4:00 p.m. Monday-Friday with course name and section number in the subject line from your Edison e-mail will be answered within 48 hours unless the school is closed (breaks/holidays). Assignments submitted through course messages or e-mail will not be accepted for a grade without prior written authorization from the instructor. If you are given permission to submit via e-mail, it must be submitted through your Edison e-mail.

Late Work:

All work should be submitted on time. With the exception of major speeches, no late work will be accepted after 48 hours of the assigned deadline. Major speeches, with the exception of the final, may be submitted up to one week past the due date with a letter grade penalty. The final speech will NOT be accepted after the term has officially ended. I reserve the right to make exceptions due to extreme circumstances at my discretion. *Any extension given for extreme circumstances will require documentation submitted to the instructor.

Academic Integrity:

Edison Community College expects students to submit original work for each assignment. The Student Handbook https://www.edisonohio.edu/digipub/StudentHandbook/index.html , pages 28-29 clearly define academic dishonesty and how Edison handles cases of academic dishonesty. Using peer support and tutoring services is not considered academic dishonesty, as long as the work is original and in your own voice, meaning you didn't submit work you did previously or "borrow" words/ideas without crediting the source. The same policy goes for AI-generated text. For example, you may use predictive text to fix spelling errors. You may not tell an AI software to write a critique of an essay for you and copy/paste the text. Any use of AI (outside of spell-checker) must be approved by the instructor and noted with the following at the bottom of the assignment:

"The author generated this text in part with <insert name/URL of AI platform>. Upon generating draft language, the author reviewed, edited, and revised the language to their own liking and takes ultimate responsibility for the content of this submission."

Any final draft exhibiting the use of AI without permission and crediting the source will be counted as plagiarism. Any assignment that is plagiarized (whether intentional or unintentional) or lacks appropriate citations will automatically receive a failing grade. Intentional submission of someone else's work as your own will result in automatic failure for the course. Whereas assignments that simply fail to cite in MLA format will have points deducted accordingly.

Testing Your Faith Act Policy

Edison State Community College is committed to providing an environment respectful of students' beliefs. Students are permitted to be absent for up to 3 days each semester based on their faith, religion, or spiritual belief system with no academic penalty. Students must complete the Testing Your Faith Act Accommodations Form, https://www.edisonohio.edu/services-support/registration-records, located in "Forms " and provide a copy to their individual faculty within 14 days from the start of the course. The entire policy can be found in the student handbook at https://www.edisonohio.edu/services-support/student-resources.

Assignments and Grading

Weekly Activities

Each week you will be required to complete learning activities. These will include discussion boards, assignments, and speeches.

Discussion Boards - Participation in discussion boards consists of your post addressing the question and your responses to your classmates' posts. The expectations for discussion board participation are as follows: the discussion board is always due at the end of the module.

Your grade for the discussion board is calculated this way:

For each module, you are given a question or a topic. The expectation is in two parts where you must:

1. By 3 days into the module, post an original response to the topic or question. Shoot for at least 100 words.
2. By the last day of the module, respond to 2 other students' posts. This must be substantial – "I agree" or "Great post" are not substantial. Shoot for 75 words.

Some suggestions:

- When you respond with your ideas, it's best practice to share what informed your thoughts.
- Expand or clarify a point that was made.
- Offer support of an argument or refute one.
- State why you interpreted the question differently.
- Ask a probing question that promotes additional discussion.
- When responding to a classmate's post, use a minimum of three sentences and address some aspect of the classmate's original post.
- If necessary, cite the assigned reading material or other sources.
- Be respectful – you do not always have to agree but you must respect one another.

Assignments – There are 9 assignments throughout the semester. Plan ahead to ensure assignments are turned in on time.

Quizzes - There are 34 mini quizzes. Complete all quizzes on the assigned due date. For each quiz, you have 2 attempts. If you choose to take the quiz a second time, the system will keep your higher grade. There is no time limit for the quizzes, and you are welcome to use your notes and other related materials during the quiz.

Speeches – This semester we will complete 4 speeches – This I Believe Speech, an informative speech a persuasive speech and a special occasion speech.

How is my grade calculated?

Assignments	300
Discussion Boards	730
Speeches	210
Quizzes	100
Total	1240	points

The total does not indicate a passing or failing grade for this course. A valid attempt for all essays (media analysis, feature article, research narrative, and essay critique) is necessary to receive a passing grade to pass the course.

Grading Scale*

A = 90 – 100
B = 80 – 89
C = 70 – 79
D = 60 - 69
F = 59 and Below
