Contacting the Instructor:

I am available to work with you during my office hours or by appointment. If you are unable to reach me in person, emailing me is the best way to contact me. I check my email often. I make it a point to respond as quickly as possible and within 12-24 hours. You may also call my office phone. Leave a message, and I will call you back as soon as I can. It would probably be best to make an appointment, as I will be out often visiting high schools and recruiting future students.

Assignments:

Five major assignments will be written during the semester:

- News Release
- Pamphlet/Brochure Design
- Infographic
- Successful Marketing Campaign Critique
- Marketing Plan

All assignments must be successfully completed in order to pass the class.

Quizzes, case studies, group activities, weekly discussion board post and responses, and other small assignments will be done throughout the course.

Writing is a process. The first draft of a paper should not be the last. I will be glad to offer advice and look at a rough draft. These assignments will account for the bulk of your grade, and it is expected that you will pay attention to detail and insert some time and effort into them. A good work ethic and a driven attitude are traits that employers desire. Please pay close attention to the assignment directions and requirements before submitting.

Assignments will be graded within two weeks.

Grades and Evaluation:

Your grade for the course will be based on the following distribution:

A (90-100)    B (80-89)    C (70-79)    D (60-69)    F (below 60)

Behavior and Participation:

Use common sense when it comes to classroom rules. No cell phones, texting, social media, etc. If you are disruptive, I will ask you to leave and you will not get credit for the day.

Be respectful of each other. Argument and debate are an important part of classroom discussions. However, putting someone down or not considering others' ideas are not acceptable behaviors. Give everyone equal attention and respect during discussions.

Bring your books, something to take notes with, and the most recent drafts of your assignments to class every day.

Attendance:

Attendance is required in this class, not for my benefit, but for yours. Good attendance is one of the main concerns of employers. Being present and participating in classroom activities will greatly contribute to your learning experience. We will be doing work in class, and it will be beneficial to your grade if you are there. Plan to attend. High school students are required to attend even if your local high school is not in session that day. Circumstances sometimes arise that require you to miss class. If you need to miss class, you will be responsible for any material you may have missed. I expect you to be prepared for the next class. Any work done in class (group activities, peer reviews, etc.) cannot be made up. If you miss class, you miss the opportunity to earn those points. Coming in late or leaving early is disruptive to the class. If you must come in late or leave early, do so in the least disruptive manner possible.

Submitting Assignments:

Assignments will be turned in via Blackboard. Assignments need to be your own work. If I feel that an assignment has been plagiarized, I can submit it to Turnitin. Turnitin will compare it to thousands of documents on the internet. We will go over how to submit assignments in class.

Save your work in more than one place: your computer hard drive, a memory stick/flash drive, or burn to a CD. Computer crashes happen and do not excuse you from meeting deadlines.

Late Work:

Deadlines need to be met. Do your best to stay on top of your assignments.

Assignments will lose 10 points each day they are late. After 10 days the assignment will be entered as a "0" and there will be no opportunity to turn in the assignment after 10 days.

Plagiarism and Academic Integrity:

Edison Community College expects students to submit original work for each assignment. The Student Handbook <http://www.edisonohio.edu/index.php?page=student-handbook>, pages 48-51 clearly defines academic dishonesty and how Edison handles cases of academic dishonesty.

Plagiarism is generally accepted as being any the following:

- 1) Copying and pasting text from any electronic media or website, transcribing text from any printed material
- 2) Using words, phrases, information, or ideas from any print, electronic, or audio-visual media without proper citation or acknowledgement of the source
- 3) Using passages from other texts while only changing a few select words within that passage
- 4) Submitting work that originates from another student or commercial source such as a paper mill

- 5) Resubmitting an assignment used in another class without the expressed permission from the current and previous instructor
- 6) Translating a work from one language to another without proper quotations and citations.

Consequences for plagiarism can vary by instructor, but can include failure for the assignment or failure for the course. The instructor is not obligated to provide opportunities to make up a failed assignment due to plagiarism. In addition, since it is difficult for an instructor to determine instances of accidental plagiarism from intentional plagiarism, it is incumbent upon students to use all available resources to guard themselves against plagiarizing. These resources include Turnitin.com, the Learning Center, and the instructor. Instructors will provide students opportunities to fix occurrences of plagiarism before final submission.

Any assignment found to be plagiarized will receive a zero.

One of the features of Turnitin, the system where you will submit your essays, is an originality check. Turnitin will compare your essay to thousands of papers, websites, and other sources. This class will make use of that function. You will be able to view the originality reports as well. This is a good learning tool to help you understand plagiarism and using sources within your paper.

If you have any questions about plagiarism, please ask. I am more than happy to help you properly cite and paraphrase your sources. Please ask before your assignment is due.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy

There are a variety of AI programs available to assist writers. AI programs are not a replacement for human creativity, originality, and critical thinking. Writing, like any skill, must be developed through practice over time. I encourage you to use AI (such as Word Editor) to help you with spelling and grammar.

However, the majority of any submission should be created by the student. Students may not, for example, type a question into an AI platform and copy and paste its response.

Any AI assistance other than basic editing should be tracked and cited within the assignment. A guide to tracking and citing AI will be included with the MLA resources in Blackboard.

Submitting AI-generated work without identifying it as such will be considered academic dishonesty and students will be subject to removal from and failure of this course.

Edison Alerts:

Make sure you are connected to the Rave Mobile Safety alert system to receive Edison Alerts. Edison will provide voice and text alerts provided you have completed the registration process. Bad weather can potentially cancel or delay classes. It is important to note for high school students that just because your high school is closed or delayed does not mean that Edison will do the same. If you have questions concerning the Rave Mobile Safety system, contact Helen Willcox or Campus Security for assistance.
