Course Policies

Attendance at Clinicals:

A clinical internship is just like a job; you must attend according to the standards set at the clinical site. You MUST notify the site and your phlebotomy instructor BEFORE you are absent for any reason. No call, no show, meaning you did not notify anyone of your impending absence, may result in you being removed from the clinical site. If a clinical site dismisses you from their site for any violation, you may be removed from the program.

Repetitive tardiness will result in disciplinary action, including documentation of student misconduct, up to removal from the program. No more than three (3) absences allowed.

Late assignments: Late work is only accepted under documented extenuating circumstances.

Academic Integrity and Respondus Testing Policy:

Healthcare professionals are held to the highest standards of integrity to ensure safe and ethical patient care. Students in the Medical Laboratory Technology, Clinical Laboratory Assistant, and Phlebotomy programs are expected to demonstrate the same level of professionalism and honesty in all academic work. All quizzes and examinations administered through Respondus LockDown Browser with a Monitor require a complete environment check, including webcam verification and room scan, prior to beginning the assessment. Failure to complete the required environment check will result in a score of zero for that assessment.

All Respondus sessions are recorded and reviewed. Behaviors that may indicate academic dishonesty include, but are not limited to:

- Use of unauthorized materials or devices
- Looking off-screen excessively or repeatedly
- Presence of another individual in the testing environment
- Attempting to bypass or interfere with monitoring software
- Inconsistent audio, video, or testing behavior

If a testing session is flagged for potential academic dishonesty, the following process will be followed:

1. Review of Recording and Evidence
The instructor will review the Respondus recording and any associated flags.
2. Student Notification and Opportunity to Respond
The student will be notified of the concern and given an opportunity to provide an explanation.
3. Determination of Outcome
Based on the evidence and student response, the instructor will determine whether a violation has occurred.
4. Consequences
 - If a violation is confirmed, a score of zero will be assigned for the assessment.
 - Repeated or severe violations may result in referral for disciplinary action, up to and including removal from the program.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- Cheating on quizzes, exams, or practicals
- Using unauthorized materials or assistance
- Copying or sharing answers (in person or electronically)

- Falsifying laboratory results, data, or documentation
- Completing work on behalf of another student or allowing someone else to complete your work
- Misrepresenting clinical or competency performance

Any suspected violation of academic integrity will be reviewed by the instructor. Students will be notified of the concern and given an opportunity to respond. If a violation is confirmed, consequences may include:

- A score of zero on the assignment or assessment
- Course failure, depending on severity
- Referral for disciplinary action; See Conduct Violation Form
- Possible removal from the program for repeated or serious violations

Maintaining academic integrity is essential not only for academic success but for the trust placed in laboratory professionals responsible for patient care.

Testing Your Faith Act Policy:

Edison State Community College is committed to providing an environment respectful of students' beliefs. Students are permitted to be absent for up to 3 days each semester based on their faith, religion, or spiritual belief system with no academic penalty. Students must complete the Testing Your Faith Act Accommodations Form, <https://www.edisonohio.edu/Registration-and-Records/> and provide a copy to their individual faculty within 14 days from the start of the course. The entire policy can be found in the student handbook at https://www.edisonohio.edu/sites/default/files/2025-06/Student_Handbook.pdf
