Course Policies

- 1) Respect Statement: This course is heavily reliant on dialogues between and among class members. We will be dealing with controversial topics about which individuals may have strong or differing opinions. Therefore, it is crucial that we work together to cultivate a respectful classroom space in which everyone can share their reactions and analyses comfortably. This means being considerate and patient with everyone else in the room. Verbal bullying, personal attacks, and proselytizing will not be tolerated under any circumstances.
- 2) Intentional academic dishonesty will result in referral to the Dean for appropriate action and a grade of "F" given for the course. Failure to cite a source is theft! Please refer to the Edison Community College Student Handbook for a detailed explanation of academic dishonesty.
 - Unless specifically stated in the assignment, the use of artificial intelligence (AI), including but not limited to Grammarly, is intentional academic dishonesty because you are having someone (a computer) other than yourself complete your assignment. I want to see YOUR work and YOUR thoughts, not someone else's.
- 3) Participation is directly tied to how much you can learn; therefore, participation will contribute to your grade as shown above. Participation is also practice for showing up to work. If you have any concerns regarding your abilities to take part, please notify your instructor as soon as possible.
 - No-Show Reporting: Students who do not complete any work by the first due date will be dropped as a No-Show.
- 4) Instructor messages: ESCC requires all instructors to reply to student messages within 24 to 48 hours. Sending the same request multiple times within the same day will not result in a faster response, as I am not online 100% of the time. Likewise, I recognize that my students may require some time to respond to my messages, so I will not send you repeated messages unless 48 hours has been exceeded.
- 5) Instructor Assistance on assignments must be requested more than three days prior to the due date of the assignment. (Otherwise, there will not be enough time to complete the work!)
- 6) Due Dates are listed on page one of this syllabus. Do not depend on the due dates in the Blackboard site as they sometimes change on their own.
- 7) Late submissions will lose 10 percentage points for every day the assignment is late.
 - Students are permitted a single, one-week extension on any assignment without receiving late deductions. Requests for the last week of class may result in an incomplete grade.
 - In order to obtain this extension, you must email the instructor two days before the assignment due date to request the extension. This exception can be enacted once without documentation/rational. Additional requests may be granted in extenuating circumstances and with documentation.
- 8) Submission Format: Assignments not submitted according to instructions will be awarded a zero for the grade. Please note: computer or electronic malfunction are included in the late deductions.
- 9) Corrections: There are no edits or corrections permitted once an assignment has been graded.
- 10) Final Submissions: No assignments, including quizzes & discussion postings, turned in after 11:59 p.m. on the Saturday of the last week of classes will be accepted.
- 11) Graded assignments will be returned within one week from their due date. Assignments submitted early may not be returned until one week from the due date. Late assignments may not be graded until the following week. Any delays in grading will be shared in the Blackboard announcements.

Assignment Overviews (You may turn in assignments early!)

Grading Rubric:

All Assignments will be graded in the following manner:

- 1) Depth of research [25 percent]
- 2) Support of topic presented [25 percent]
- 3) Logical flow of argument & of written word [25 percent]
- 4) Proper citation format [7 percent]
- 5) Grammar & punctuation [10 percent]
- 6) Meeting of the Specific Requirements as outlined by the assignment [8 percent]

- You may only use your textbook and the sources identified in the assignment to complete course work.
 - Use of unauthorized materials will result in a 25% grade reduction.

Quiz Overview:

You may take each quiz up to two times.

- Please check the first page of your syllabus for specific due dates.
- All quizzes may be found in the folder that corresponds to the quiz material you are being quizzed over.
 - For example, the Islam quiz is located in the "Islam" Course Module folder.
- The quizzes are objective (multiple choice, true/false, etc.).
- The quizzes are timed. The timer does not stop (even if you hit save!).
- Your highest score will be recorded for each quiz.

You must complete the quiz when you open it, so plan accordingly!

E-mail anytime you have questions or problems with the quizzes: lcollins@edisonohio.edu.

Homework Overview:

- ❖ Assignments are used as ways to judge your ability to grasp the information being presented. Unless permitted by the instructions, all assignments are to be completed individually.
 - Unless specified in the assignment instructions, do not use online grammar programs such as Grammarly; they are artificial intelligence, and they rewrite your work. Use of these programs constitutes intentional academic dishonesty and a course grade of "F".
- ❖ You may only use the material listed on the assignments as approved resources.
 - Unauthorized sources will result in a deduction of ten percent of the points possible.
- ❖ The full assignment details are found in the Assignments module in Blackboard.
 - All assignments should be completed in the format required by that assignment's instructions.
 - The assignments must be submitted through the Assignments page in the Blackboard site.
 - Files must be uploaded as attachments.
 - Files must be .doc, .docx, .rtf, .pdf, .ppt, .pptx, or .txt file formats ONLY.
 - ◆ Google Docs is NOT an acceptable file format.
 - ◆ Files not submitted in the approved format will be graded as a zero.
- ❖ All assignments require you to cite your sources; both with internal citations and a full citation at the end.
 - All assignments are submitted through Turnitin for plagiarism and AI checks.
 - Please visit www.eTutoring.org or Edison State's Tutoring Center to have your drafts reviewed.

(D.B.) Discussion Board Assignments:

You are to participate in on-line discussions to help demonstrate your understanding of the material and to demonstrate your ability to work in groups. For these assignments you are to answer the questions posted on the Discussion Board.

- ❖ Unless otherwise stated on the assignment, you may only use your textbook and the class materials to complete these assignments.
- ❖ All posts must contain in-text citations and a works cited list.
- ❖ Each assignment has the minimum length and score breakdown listed.
 - In general, each answer should be at least 200 words in length, and each response should aim for a minimum of 75 words.
- ❖ Do not upload a document as your DB answer – some people will not be able to read your posts!
- ❖ DO type your answers and responses in a document first!
 - You will also be able to spell-check and review your answers before submitting them.
 - You can then copy/paste your answer to the Discussion Board.
 - You will also have a back-up copy in case a problem with Blackboard occurs.
- ❖ The Start Here Module contains sample discussion board posts for your review.
- ❖ Remember proper discussion etiquette (netiquette), details of which are also in the Start Here module.
