COURSE INFORMATION

Policy Statement

All policies and procedures that are found in the RN to BSN Student Handbook and the Edison State Student Handbook are applicable to this course.

Class Participation Policy

Participation in the Blackboard web-assignments is required. Missing an assignment seriously affects the students' ability to meet course objectives.

Syllabus Changes

Changes in assignments, topic, dates, evaluation methods, and other course-related changes may occur at the decision of the faculty. Changes of this nature will be announced to the students. Each student is responsible to check their Edison student e-mail and the Blackboard Announcements area daily for updates/notices.

Communication Expectations, Faculty Communication and Response Time

Blackboard (BB) Announcements and ESCC email must be checked daily (preferably several times a day). Important college information is sent to students via ESCC email. Instructors regularly post reminders, course updates/information, and clarifications on BB Announcements. All correspondence between instructors and students will be conducted via an Edison State email. Students may expect a response from faculty within 24-48 hours.

Faculty Feedback Policy

All discussion boards and written works will be graded via a rubric within one week of submission. Feedback will be included on the rubric as applicable. The instructors are available to help with individual learning needs or concerns.

Writing Standards

Written assignments are expected to reflect carefully developed work and are to be proofread and always be original work on the student's part. Papers should reflect a logical flow of ideas and be free of spelling and grammatical errors. Standard APA documentation as found in the APA Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association 7th ed., should be followed.

Reference Requirements

All references must be cited. Standard APA documentation can be found in the APA Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association 7th edition.

Late Assignment Policy

Assignments being turned in late is strongly discouraged. A 20% reduction each day the assignment is late will apply. Extensions may be given under approved extenuating circumstances at the discretion of the course instructor. The student is responsible for notifying the instructor before the due date if the assignment will be late for any reason.

Policy on Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism

The faculty abides by the college policy on academic dishonesty and plagiarism as outlined in the student handbook.

Methods of Teaching

The course consists of a series of activities and assessments to assist the student in achieving the outcomes/objectives for the course. Students will engage in self-study methods including readings and online assignments. Self-directed learning is required to complete readings and identify needs for further information or review.

Strategies that may be used include discussion, media resources, computer assisted instruction, and case studies. Students interact with their fellow classmates and faculty for shared learning.

Throughout the semester, various combinations of activities are used to prepare students for testing, which include:

- Weekly Student Learning Outcomes (WSLO)
- Reading from the textbook and other resources
- Case Studies
- Videos or other media resources
- Instructor assistance during office hours, by appointment, by e-mail, or by phone communication

Methods of teaching/learning include use of web enhancement through Blackboard, where students are encouraged to seek information, review concepts, theories and research, cluster data, review their own opinion and previously held assumptions, and make judgments required for sound decision-making as a registered nurse. Learning is facilitated by a process of sharing, trust, and active participation of both the learners and the educator. Experiential, inquire-based learning is facilitated by an orientation towards learning that is flexible and open and draws upon the varied skills and resources of faculty and students. Faculty members are co-learners who guide and facilitate the student-driven learning experiences to achieve goals of problem solving, critical thinking, and assumption of responsibility by students for their own learning. Service learning focuses on the duality of benefit to both recipient and learner. A service-learning focus requires students to take concepts learned in the classroom and apply them to real life situations in diverse cultures. Features of service learning include:

1. Apply knowledge by testing and applying academic learning.
2. Synthesize knowledge by bringing together past and present learning, giving coherence to students' studies.
3. Critically think and analyze by learning to distinguish what is and is not important in the unfiltered context of the real world.
4. Learn about cultural diversity by learning with, from, and about people of other races, ages, economic means, and competencies.
5. Develop values through firsthand interaction with community issues.
6. Learn inductive reasoning by using the specific as an embarkation point for hypothesizing and theorizing.

Self-directed learning is required to complete readings and identify needs for further information or review. Your instructor is available to help with individual learning needs or concerns. Additional resources are available through the student development office.

Ethics

Students are expected to respect each patient and peer students' dignity, cultural beliefs, autonomy, and privacy. Confidentiality is not only required by law but is necessary for trust in the student nurse-patient and student-student relationship.

Artificial Intelligence Policy

Not following this policy—including documentation-- is a violation of the academic integrity policy and will be treated as such.

For this course, YOU must be the author of all coursework. You may use AI in some minor or non-substantive ways.

You are responsible for what you turn in. However, AI is filled with errors and false information. It is your responsibility to make sure what you submit is both correct and your own work.

The use of generative AI tools is permitted in this course for the following activities:

- Brainstorming and refining your ideas
- Checking grammar and style

The use of AI tools is not permitted in this course for the following activities:

- Writing a draft of an assignment
- Writing entire sentences, paragraphs, or papers to complete class assignments
- Typing a question into an AI platform and copying and pasting its response.

You should be able to show all your work on a project. If you use AI for anything other than basic spelling and grammar (Word spell/grammar check, and Grammarly), you need to document and disclose that use.

For example, if you asked AI to tell you something about your topic, you would need to cite that information. Citing generative AI in APA Style: Part 1—Reference formats will help you create AI citations.

Your use of AI tools must be properly documented and cited to stay within college policies on academic honesty. Any assignment that uses generative AI unauthorizedly will be reported for academic misconduct. If in doubt about permitted usage, please ask for clarification.

Documentation

If you use AI to help you make your paper sound more professional (or something similar), you need to provide a copy of your original work, the prompt you used, the response, a description of how you applied the response, and share the results. It is your responsibility to make sure everything is documented and accessible.

Submitting AI-generated work without following these guidelines will be considered a violation of the academic integrity policy.

Example Statement:

On [DATE], I used [TOOL] to help me revise my paper. Here is a copy of the conversation: [LINK]. I used the response to improve my topic sentences and make my tone more professional.

*The conversation should have your original prompt and paper in addition to the AI's response

Submitting AI-generated work without following these guidelines will be considered academic dishonesty.

Any assignment that violates the academic integrity policy will receive a grade of zero, and you will be referred to the college student policy process for academic integrity, as stated in the Edison State Community College Student Handbook.

If you have any questions about academic integrity, please ask. I am more than happy to help you properly cite. Please ask before the assignment's due date. Once you submit your assignment, you accept responsibility for the content.

Learning Objectives

Weekly student learning outcomes (WSLOs) and corresponding weekly student learning outcomes are posted on Blackboard in the Blackboard Weekly Assignments tab.

Grading Scale

The grading scale is found in the nursing student handbook. The RN to BSN Student Handbook contains the following grading policy that will be followed in this course: “Number grades will be recorded to the hundredths of a point for all assignments. The final total course point score will be rounded to the closest whole number.” To calculate a student’s letter grade, the number of points is rounded to the whole number; for example, 623.5 points will round to 624 points for a 78% in the course. A minimum of 623.5 points must be achieved to pass the course. Course grades are listed in the table below.

Grade	Points required
A	743.5 - 800
B	679.5 - 743
C	623.5 - 679
D	559.5 - 623
F	Below 559.5
